MAN AND FISH APPARENTLY THE
WINNERS IN OAK LAKE BATTLE

The Battle of the Fish apparently has been won at Oak Park's West Lake.

City park officials and Game Commission employees were working to save the fish, perishing from a lack of oxygen.

Park Superintendent James Ager Friday said he didn't believe any more fish were dying and that it probably will not be necessary to move any more carp to East Lake.

The fish dispersed after the Lincoln Boat Club ran its boats through the lake to aerate the water. Good winds Thursday night also helped.

Ager said the removal of dead fish will be completed Saturday.

The oxygen lack was believed to have been caused by the extreme heat and a decomposition of green algae.

It'll Stay Hotter 'N Blazes

—LINCOLN'S 104 ONE POINT SHY OF ALL-TIME RECORD—

Nebraska will continue to resemble Satan's furnace Saturday. Once again the weatherman says it will be from 100 to 105 in the east part of the state.

The thermometer climbed within one degree of setting an all time record in Lincoln for Aug. 26. The mercury hit 104, just under the 105 mark set in 1926.

Residents of Burwell and the Lincoln Air Base, the two places that shared the state high of 106 degrees, can take what comfort there is in knowing it was worse elsewhere. Thermal, Calif., had 111 degrees Friday.

It was 105 at Norfolk and 104 at Grand Island.

An unofficial 111 "in the shade" was reported on the Winston Merrill farm near Pleasant Dale.

Other towns with readings over the century mark included Omaha, 102; North Platte, 101; and Imperial, 100.

The current heat wave has lasted 12 days with temperatures over 90. Ten of 12 days it has been over 95.

The heat wave extends over most of Kansas where Friday temperatures included 102 at Hill City and 100 at Russell and Salina.

Lusty thunderstorms early Saturday morning broke the heat wave temporarily at Sidney and Scottsbluff. Winds up to 35 m.p.h. hit Sidney and 52 m.p.h. gusts whined through Scottsbluff. Temperatures at both places stood at 70 early in the morning.

But most of the nation was cool as Atlanta, Ga., recorded a relatively pleasant 83, Salt Lake City 79 and San Francisco 60.

Pair Still Critical As 3
Die In A Flaming AutoAIRMEN'S CAR RAMS GAS TRANSPORT
ON HIGHWAY 77 NEAR CRETE CORNER

By ROY CAMPBELL

Star Staff Writer

One Lincoln airman was in poor condition, a second critical early Saturday and another was in fair condition as a result of an early morning accident that snuffed out the lives of three others.

Their car rammed the rear of a gasoline transport truck about 3:30 a.m. Friday on Hwy. 77 a mile south of the Crete Corner.

The dead were:

A. 2c Evert G. Hill Jr., 18, son of Evert G. Hill Sr. of Richmond, Calif.

A. 1c Virgil W. Abbott, 22, son of Mrs. Bessie Ann Abbott of De-pue, Ill.

A. 2c Bobby R. McDonald, 18, son of Charles H. McDonald of Mobile, Ala.

Dover McIntosh, 18, of Bee Log, N.C., was in critical condition at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Leon S. Zagrodink, 18, of Meadow, N. Y., was in poor condition.

Believed to be the driver of the car, T. Sgt. James L. Lyons, 27, of 1329 Garfield, is reported in fair condition at Lincoln General Hospital.

Trying To Pass

Frank Jacox, deputy county sheriff, said Lyons' car rammed the left rear of the transport in an apparent attempt to pass it at the Missouri-Pacific tracks, 1½ miles south of Lincoln.

The car careened to the left off the truck and burst into flames. Driver of the truck, Orville A. Hoppenstedt, 42, of Marysville, Kan., an employee of the Lengenmeier Oil Co. of Wayne, said he and a passing motorist put out flames on the car four times.

The trucker said all six men were thrown from the vehicle. He and a Ralph Allen of Detroit, Kan., moved the dead and injured away from the flames when they depleted the fluid in their fire fighting equipment.

Car Demolished

Two passing truck drivers, F. L. Walden and Eldon Van Burck of Kansas City, Mo., also aided in rescue work.

The car was completely demolished. The top of the 1953 automobile was sheared and the right side smashed in.

Hoppenstedt said he had just stopped for the railroad crossing and was going into second gear, about 10 miles an hour, when the car struck. The truck was fully loaded with 5,800 gallons of 86 octane gasoline.

A trucker who arrived at the scene of the accident shortly after it happened, Alvin Myers of Seward, said Lyons' car had passed him at a "terrific rate of speed. It was not known where the airman had been.

All of the injured and dead were in the 30th Field Maintenance Squadron at the Air Base.

Striker's Wife And Union
Chief Nabbed After Spat

CHICAGO (AP)—A picket line disturbance led to the arrest Friday of a housewife and the president of her husband's union whose strike she has opposed vigorously.

Mrs. Esther Quigley, 35-year-old mother of four children, has locked her husband, Andrew, out of their house because he and others of Local 1214, CIO-United Automobile Workers, struck while a contract was in force and negotiations on a new one were in progress.

She says she will divorce him if the company, the Harrison Sheet Steel Co., goes out of business because of the strike, as it has threatened to do. Quigley is a steward in the union.

Mrs. Quigley's militant position has attracted attention here and abroad. Newspaper readers sent her fan mail which she took to the plant to show the strikers. There were about 30 on hand but only four picketing.

Her appearance drew taunts and Nicholas Prete, president of the local, offered her a carton of milk. Police Capt. George Barnes said. She previously told the strikers their children would go without milk because of the walkout.

Prete said Mrs. Quigley shoved the carton back at him. Prete displayed scratches on his shoulder which he said were inflicted by the woman in tearing off his white shirt embroidered with "UAW-CIO."

The man and woman were charged with disorderly conduct and will appear in court Sept. 1. Each was released on $10 bond.

Exposure Complaint

A 15-year-old youth was booked in the city jail on an open charge in connection with exposing himself before a 12-year-old Lincoln girl. Police said the girl was walking past a resident when a teenage youth opened the screen door and exposed himself.

"You know," confided Nell, "you'd be surprised how many men will be wretched when I marry."

"How many," replied her friend, "are you going to marry?"

"Are you going to marry?"

Janitor's
Daughter
Is Slain

MATTOON, Ill. (INS) — A 14-year-old daughter of a church custodian was shot and killed at her home Friday by a young man wearing a mustache and sideburns, presumably in preparation for Mattoon's centennial celebration.

The victim was Doris Edwards, the daughter of William D. Edwards who is custodian of the First Christian Church.

She was alone in her home when she was shot and ran out into the yard where she collapsed. She was pronounced dead on arrival at Memorial Hospital. Two bullets had pierced her chest.

Saw Killer

A neighbor, Mrs. Charles Ballinger, told police she saw the killer drive up to the Edwards home and enter the house. Then she said she heard several shots and a scream.

Mrs. Ballinger described the slayer as a young man with a pointed mustache and long sideburns. Hundreds of other men in Mattoon are wearing beards and sideburns for the centennial.

Police said they could determine no motive for the shooting.

Mother, 39, Arrested On Morals Complaint

A 39-year-old Lincoln mother was booked on an open charge at police headquarters in connection with a morals complaint and child neglect, police said.

A 19-year-old airman was taken into custody in the woman's home and later released.

Disarmament Hopes Mount

POLICY SHAPED BY WEST

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States and Western allies appeared hopeful Friday of making some progress in big power disarmament talks ordered by chiefs of government at Geneva.

Harold Stassen, President Eisenhower's adviser on disarmament, consulted with top delegates of Britain, France and Canada on strategy for the new round of U.N. disarmament subcommittee sessions convening Monday.

Unusual Step
In a step unusual for the preliminaries of such talks here, Stassen invited the Soviet delegation to lunch Monday. The Russians ended a guessing game at the U.N. by announcing their permanent delegate Arkady Sobolev, will represent Moscow at the talks. The delegation until Friday afternoon had professed not to know who would represent the Kremlin.

The luncheon will permit the two groups to get acquainted and Stassen may give Sobolev a preview of the U.S. proposals.

Stassen will be sitting with the subcommittee for the first time. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., remains as the U.S. delegate to the subcommittee but Stassen, designated as a deputy representative, will handle the talks.

Nutting for Britain
Britain will be represented by Anthony Nutting, minister of state—a sort of deputy foreign secretary. Jules Moch, former defense minister, will represent France, and Paul Martin, minister for national health and welfare, will sit for Canada.

Stassen was reported ready to urge the Russians to accept President Eisenhower's Geneva plan for exchanges of aerial inspection teams by the Soviet Union and the United States. This was said to be the first step in a plan of action that has been in the works for months.

The Russians have been a bit cool to the Eisenhower proposal but they have promised to continue to consider it.

Edith Slows Attack Rate

MIA MI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Edith, loitering in the Atlantic, inched closer to the mainland Friday night but her winds were only about 75 m.p.h. in squalls.

Late Friday night the storm center was near latitude 26.0 north, longitude 83.7 west or about 920 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, N.C., and 1,020 miles due east of Miami.

The storm was moving very slowly, possibly 5 to 6 m.p.h. toward the north-northwest, the Miami Weather Bureau reported.

Squalls
Highest winds were estimated at bare hurricane force—75 m.p.h.—in squalls near the center and gales extended outward 150 miles to the north and east and 75 miles to the southwest.

Slow movement at 5 to 6 m.p.h. toward the north-northwest is indicated the next 12 to 24 hours, with possibly some further development, the Weather Bureau added.

Edith, third storm this month and fifth of the year, had slowed her forward movement from 10 m.p.h. earlier in the day and had turned a little more toward the north-northwest.

Prisoner Seeks Halt To Services He Can't Escape

SEATTLE (INS)—Suit was filed today by a King County jail prisoner to prevent religious groups from conducting services in the jail corridors where he has to listen to them, whether he wants to or not.

Otis Washington, 34, a seaman who is serving 90 days for narcotics use and six months for larceny filed the suit.

Washington's attorney, said his client is bringing the suit in behalf of himself and 300 fellow prisoners. They have no objection to services in the prison chapel, where anyone can attend who wishes, but they object to the corridor services which the prisoners in cells are unable to escape.

Moorefield Man Fatally Injured

MOOREFIELD, Neb. (AP)—Charles Gene Nickerson, 27, Moorefield, was fatally injured when he was pinned between a truck and a grain bin.

He died several hours later in a Cozad hospital. Nickerson is survived by his widow and three daughters.

Man Rescued On 400-Foot N. Y. Bridge

NEW YORK (AP)—An unemployed house-painter, who said he wanted to "talk to God," climbed nearly 400 feet up into the superstructure of the George Washington Bridge Friday night. Four policemen finally brought him down.

The man, Chester Daniels, 30, of Justell, Ky., was taken to Bellevue Hospital for observation. He told police he left his wife, to come to New York three weeks ago in search of work. His money ran out and he began climbing the bridge "so I could talk to God," he said.

City Maintains Ashland Well Site Interest

The city is maintaining a continual interest in possible new well field sites on the Platte at Ashland.

Public Works Director D. L. Erickson has even mentioned the possibility of acquiring land on the east or Elkhorn River side of the Platte.

There are presently 24 wells at Ashland. An expansion of this well field would mean the acquisition of more land.

An expansion of well field and filtration plant facilities has been suggested by Erickson to give the city an additional nine million gallons of water per day. This would boost the city's total daily supply to 55.5 million gallons per day, 45.5 million gallons from Ashland and 10 million gallons from local wells.

Some sentiment has been expressed in favor of an even greater expansion. Erickson is to prepare an estimate of cost on various stages of expansion up to the present transmission line capacity of 60 million gallons a day from Ashland.

Girl, 19, Tied To Mystery Of Lost Man

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (INS)—A teen-aged Milwaukee girl with a passion for new clothes was linked Friday with the mystery of a disappearing Chicago chemist.

FBI men stalked the waterfront city of Corpus Christi hunting for 19-year-old Jo Ann Severa.

She was implicated by Leonard Lafond, 20, seized in Truth or Consequence, Ariz. Lafond sold a car which belonged to Lewis A. Finn, missing 70-year-old chemist believed slain during a vacation auto jaunt alone.

Jo Ann was traveling cross-country with Lafond, he told investigators. He said she went on a clothes buying spree in El Paso, Tex., before accompanying him to Truth or Consequence. Then, she told him "one night she was going out for a walk. She never came back."

Her trousseau vanished, too. It was learned she took a taxi to Las Cruces, N. M., and bought a bus ticket for Corpus Christi.

Board Criticizes Morris; Hints 'Soft' Policy Return

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

The Board of Control Friday showed indications of returning to a "soft" policy when, three days after it investigated conditions at the Men's Reformatory with Supt. George Morris, it reprimanded him for his handling of inmates who caused the disturbance.

While two inmates were trying to escape, 76 other inmates started a diversionary disturbance, throwing articles in corridors and breaking windows. Morris and the Reformatory guards immediately stripped the inmates of clothing and put them in segregation.

All have been released and routine of the institution restored. The inmates are voluntarily agreeing to pay for the damage they caused.

Acted Properly
The board in its letter to Morris said he acted properly in removing the prisoners' clothing before they were placed in segregation and gave approval to such policy.

However, the board continued, "The board wishes to inform you that they do not approve the practice of withholding clothing from the boys after they have been searched and placed in solitary confinement."

"We believe that common decency requires that they be allowed to wear clothing. We have no objection to their being punished in keeping with sound penological practices but ask that you abolish this particular type practice."

Morris, who has been a strong critic of some board actions, explained that it is not standard practice to keep clothing from inmates in segregation. He explained that 76 inmates were involved in the disturbance and that he had only about 15 coveralls such as are issued at such times.

"That is all we normally need," he said. "I don't believe we have ever before had 15 confined at one time."

"The law makes it my duty to protect state property," Morris continued, "and I was endeavoring to enforce the law."

Inmates Gave $60
He explained that the disturbance will cost the taxpayers of the state nothing. The inmates have subscribed $60 to pay cost of replacing broken glass and that two others who broke a table have agreed to replace it.

Morris said that the rioters were removed from segregation as rapidly as possible and that none were confined in excess of 34 hours.

As to the letter from the board, Morris said, "It appears to be the beginning of a policy on the part of the board of trying to control details of institution operations from the Capitol, which I think is a bad error and has been so demonstrated in the past."

He recalled the orders of President Woodrow Wilson when he sent troops to quell the mine disorders in Colorado: "The measure of your authority will be dictated by the necessities of the situation."

Morris said that when the three members of the board visited the reformatory three days ago, they did not voice any criticism of the methods with which he was meeting the situation.

Billy, Just 14, Town's Quiet Flood Hero

CARPENTERSVILLE, N. J. (AP)—Billy Kober has been a hero for almost a week.

But his deeds were known only to those 400 residents of this flood-wrecked Delaware Valley community.

"My voice was O.K., so they used me," he said Friday in thin, clear 14-year-old tones after a 17-hour stint as chief operator of a mobile radio unit.

For 17 hours a day—8 a.m. to 1 a.m.—Billy has been manning the only communications system in the village where 12 houses were destroyed, 22 extensively damaged and havoc spread everywhere.

Doesn't Live There
A freshman at nearby Phillipsburg High School, Billy since Monday morning has been serving the people of a town where he doesn't even live. The town was swept by flood last Friday and Saturday.

"And I wouldn't mind doing it all year," he adds.

Billy was tapped for the job when he took some equipment to the wrecked town for his dad, municipal disaster control director. The man who was to operate the equipment had an unsuitable voice and so Billy jumped into the slot.

How do his parents feel about his work?

"They're proud," he says shyly.

However, the board continued, "The board wishes to inform you that they do not approve the practice of withholding clothing from the boys after they have been searched and placed in solitary confinement."

"We believe that common decency requires that they be allowed to wear clothing. We have no objection to their being punished in keeping with sound penological practices but ask that you abolish this particular type practice."

Morris, who has been a strong critic of some board actions, explained that it is not standard practice to keep clothing from inmates in segregation. He explained that 76 inmates were involved in the disturbance and that he had only about 15 coveralls such as are issued at such times.

"That is all we normally need," he said. "I don't believe we have ever before had 15 confined at one time."

"The law makes it my duty to protect state property," Morris continued, "and I was endeavoring to enforce the law."

Inmates Gave $60
He explained that the disturbance will cost the taxpayers of the state nothing. The inmates have subscribed $60 to pay cost of replacing broken glass and that two others who broke a table have agreed to replace it.

Morris said that the rioters were removed from segregation as rapidly as possible and that none were confined in excess of 34 hours.

As to the letter from the board, Morris said, "It appears to be the beginning of a policy on the part of the board of trying to control details of institution operations from the Capitol, which I think is a bad error and has been so demonstrated in the past."

He recalled the orders of President Woodrow Wilson when he sent troops to quell the mine disorders in Colorado: "The measure of your authority will be dictated by the necessities of the situation."

Morris said that when the three members of the board visited the reformatory three days ago, they did not voice any criticism of the methods with which he was meeting the situation.

Billy, Just 14, Town's Quiet Flood Hero

CARPENTERSVILLE, N. J. (AP)—Billy Kober has been a hero for almost a week.

But his deeds were known only to those 400 residents of this flood-wrecked Delaware Valley community.

"My voice was O.K., so they used me," he said Friday in thin, clear 14-year-old tones after a 17-hour stint as chief operator of a mobile radio unit.

For 17 hours a day—8 a.m. to 1 a.m.—Billy has been manning the only communications system in the village where 12 houses were destroyed, 22 extensively damaged and havoc spread everywhere.

Irrigators, Loup District Hit Agreement

Settlement Will Cover This Season

Lincoln Star Special
COLUMBUS, Neb.—Edd Kelly, general manager of the Loup Public Power and Irrigation District, announced late Friday that an agreement has been reached between his organization and the North Loup River Water Users Association to cover the current irrigating season.

Although he declined to reveal the amount involved, Kelly said the settlement was in payment for damages which the Loup River has suffered or will suffer up to and including Sept. 15, 1955, as a result of diversion and use of water out of the North Loup River by the North Loup Public Power and Irrigation District and the North Loup River Water Users Association under the Loup appropriation 2287.

If the weather continues hot and dry, and the irrigators need more water after September 15, they must make further arrangements at that time, Kelly explained.

Earlier in the summer the irrigators sought an injunction which would have prevented limiting of Loup River waters to the farmers. However, the injunction was dismissed by District Judge E. G. Kroger of Grand Island.

CHADRON, Neb. — Since Chadron's new museum of the Fur Trade was dedicated July 16, more than 650 persons have signed the museum's guest register.

Increasing Markets, Taking Land Out Of Production Urged

Lincoln Star Special
MILFORD, Neb. — "Conditions at the present time are strangely reminiscent of those in the 1920s when industry and labor enjoyed prosperity while agriculture was constantly going downhill," declared William B. Pearson, master of the Minnesota State Grange, at the dedication ceremonies of the Milford Grange Hall here Friday night.

All segments of American economy are booming except agriculture according to a U.S. Department of Commerce report, Pearson pointed out.

He suggested increasing markets and taking land out of production as two worthwhile remedies for the current agricultural situation.

"At least 10 million acres, and possibly as much as 15 million acres of land that should have been left in grass are now used for producing grain," he commented.

"A plan should be worked out to get and keep this land in meadow and pasture, while leaving it in private ownership. The acreage of productive land kept in grass should be increased."

The Milford Grange, organized in 1932, purchased a building this spring for $4,000. The men of the Grange immediately started to work remodeling and repairing, and the women helped with the cleaning, papering and painting.

Further work planned on the building includes sanding the floor, painting woodwork, enclosing the kitchen, and putting a new entrance to the basement. The basement will also be remodeled to make it usable for the Juvenile Grange.

Wiston Merrill of Pleasant Dale serves as master of the Milford Grange.

Delay Granted In Murder Case Of Iowa Woman

KNOXVILLE, Ia. — The court-appointed attorney for James F. Smith, 23, filed a motion for a bill of particulars Friday, thus winning a delay before Smith's plea to a charge of murder must be entered.

County Attorney Bert Bandstra had filed an information Wednesday in District Court accusing Smith of slaying his grandmother, Mrs. Daisy Betterton, 67, of Attica, on Aug. 13. Smith was to have entered a plea to the charge Friday morning.

No New Date Set

Bandstra said the state did not oppose the bill of particulars and would file it as soon as possible. No new date was set for receiving Smith's plea.

Smith arrested in Denver Aug. 15, has admitted killing his grandmother because he said, she "nagged" him about his drinking. Mrs. Betterton's trussed and burned body was found the morning of Aug. 15 in a roadside park near Arapahoe, Neb. Authorities said she had been bludgeoned to death with a spade at her home in Attica.

Huge Soviet Market Awaits US Farm Surplus--Lambert

WASHINGTON — The head of a U. S. farm delegation which has just toured Russia reported there's a huge Soviet market for surplus farm products and "the time is ripe" to develop it.

Dean W. V. Lambert of the University of Nebraska's college of agriculture urged the American government to "go after" the market actively to help dispose of its agricultural surpluses.

"I think there is an opportunity to sell our products there," Lambert said in a question-and-answer session at the National Press Club. He singled out land and fats as commodities which might easily be sold to the Russians because there are shortages of both in the Soviet Union.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson also endorsed the idea.

"I should be inclined to favor such sales if it fitted in with our foreign policies, as I believe it would," Benson said at an earlier news conference.

Rich Soil
Lambert's delegation also held a news conference Friday and found more to criticize than to praise when they separated on the Soviet farm system.

Among the good points mentioned by the returning, caviar-filled tourists was the richness of the soil, the large-scale training of agricultural scientists and the conquest of illiteracy among the people generally.

But they agreed that farming by Red government directive falls far short of the results achieved by American methods. Manpower is wasted on a large scale, they said.

Some of the farmers criticized the way machinery is used, while others spoke of the isolation of the Russian people and the apparent lack of rewards for those who till the soil.

10,000 Miles
The U. S. farmers are just back from a six-week tour of the Soviet Union which took them 10,000 miles back and forth across the Red farmlands.

At the Press Club luncheon, Lambert said the Russians are only 15 to 20 per cent as efficient as Americans in using farm manpower. He said this was pointed out "frankly" to Russian officials at the end of the tour.

The dean also reported there is no threat of an immediate agricultural crisis in Russia. Soviet authorities, he said, are nevertheless "frightened" about the unsatisfactory harvest in the Ukraine last year. The population is increasing by three million persons a year.

Lambert said he found during his six weeks in Russia that the Russians were "moving forward" in agriculture faster than he had thought they were moving. He indicated, however, the Americans did not find as many new things in Russia that might be useful to them as a similar group of Russian farm representatives must have found on their recent tour of U.S. farms.

Favors No Toasts
Lambert jokingly said he was glad there would be no toasts drunk at the press club luncheon.

"I hope nobody serves us caviar for a while," he added, "at least not for breakfast. Also, I do not want any champagne for breakfast. And I think most of us hope we don't see any vodka for a while."

He suggested farm delegations in the future might request the Russians "put governors on their automobiles" to control speed. He said the Americans were driven over roads "not as good as ours" at 75-80 miles per hour.

Growing Power Needs

Nebraska's public power districts, meeting with Gov. Anderson Thursday to straighten out tangled standing in the path of construction of additional generating facilities, face but one obstacle, an imposing one, at that.

The obstacle is to come up with a formula representing common agreement among themselves.

Thus far the only agreement they have been able to reach is to agree to disagree, which is less than the public they represent have a right to expect from those in charge of facilities which actually belong to the people.

Now, the need for additional generating facilities, a need not anticipated at the time the districts were created, is generally recognized. In every section of the United States, an electrical age sweeps on year after year to new and larger electrical requirements. Nor is there any present development suggesting that the demand for electricity will level off. If anything, we can expect requirements for more power will become more pressing as new uses for electricity develop and the peak load out on the farms and in the cities increases.

Gov. Anderson told the conference Thursday of his plan to appoint a citizens' committee in the event that the districts find it impossible to come up with their own solution. The governor has no other choice. He cannot be in the position of standing by with folded hands while Nebraska's power needs mount month after month without any similar increase in generating capacity. Appointment of the committee itself imposes a burden and responsibility upon the governor. The first requirement of members of such a committee, it would seem, is an understanding and knowledge of the character and objectives of Nebraska's public power program.

While no ultimate solution in supplying the state with the electricity it will ultimately need, we cannot other than conclude that Nebraska's lost a bet when their congressional delegation failed to procure congressional approval of transmission facilities from the Dakota dams which will produce large amounts of current. Nor is that source of supply to be ignored by a conclusion that North and South Dakota will gobble up all of the power these dams can furnish. North Dakota (population 619,636 in the census of 1950) and South Dakota (population 652,740 by the same census) actually have less population combined than Nebraska. It could be granted that both states have first call, but there will still remain some power to be sold beyond its borders.

Chances are that excess will find its way into Iowa and Minnesota at the expense of Nebraska's public power districts, the latter under long standing practice entitled to priority.

The One-Way System

It is, of course, too early to pass final judgment on the success or failure of the city's two one-way streets which have been in operation for the past week.

However, all indications are that the 16th and 17th one-way pair are working out even better than expected and that drivers generally like the plan. Reports are that both streets are carrying more traffic now than they did previously and with less congestion.

This first one-way experiment in Lincoln is important not only for this one case but for what it could mean to the city on a much larger scale. Traffic experts have long debated the merits and demerits of one-way streets versus wide double or triple-lane two-way traffic.

This question is sure to come to a head with city officials when a decision is forced upon them as to providing an entrance for the new southeast radial, now under construction from 21st and K to 27th and D. The beauty of one-way streets, it seems, is in the low cost of setting them up.

A single street leading into the new diagonal at 21st would necessarily have to be much wider than normal. There is no existing facility which could provide this essential gateway. Any plan to widen K to provide such an entrance would cost several hundred thousand dollars, with the federal government sharing in half the cost.

On the other hand, K and L could be made one-way pair into and out of the diagonal at a very nominal price. There would undoubtedly have to be some revision of the intersection at 21st and K to run L into and out of the new southeast thoroughfare. There would also be a substantial investment in traffic signals and signs but the total cost of such a one-way system would be insignificant in comparison to the cost of bringing K up to an adequate standard for doing the job by itself.

The widening K and, eventually, its connection by an overpass to West O is a highly commendable plan but it seems terribly rich for the city's blood at this time. So many other city streets, including another gigantic viaduct problem on No. 10th, are in such dire need of repair that neglect of them in favor of K would almost seem shocking.

Editorial Of The Day

Hammock Philosophy

(From The New York Times)

One of several things this country needs is a renaissance of the old-fashioned hammock. We are in favor of most of the multitudinous types of lawn chairs that have blossomed in recent years; there is need of the lounging types that have been devised, provided they can be assembled without collapsing in a dozen directions at the same time and pinching a man's fingers. But fundamentally we need hammocks—the kind that is swung between two trees at the northwest corner of the house or across the north end of the farm porch.

A generation and more ago the mail-order catalogue offered a generous selection. You could get an inexpensive cotton weave with pillow and spreader for as little as 85 cents, or you could buy a magnificent damask tufted pillow affair for $2.55. As the ad stated, "This hammock is woven as close as the finest tapestry. All the beauty and colors in design of an oriental rug. Extra full, deep curtain; fine heavy fringe; size of bed, 40 by 80 inches. Tufted throw-back tassel bar. Could not be duplicated elsewhere for $4. Our price, only $2.55."

If more men had a hammock in which to snooze after a noon dinner it would have a salubrious effect on the social order. Man spends too much time vertical these days; if he took a horizontal position for a spell each day he would find that many of life's tensions and frustrations tended to fall into proper perspective. There is no question about it. When a man's feet are approximately the same height from the ground as his head it induces a flow of thoughts. Hammock philosophy has not recently had a trial on a nation-wide basis, but if we could get a national movement started, the possibilities for the betterment of society are promising.

99-Year Power Leases Concealed In 'Packages'

WASHINGTON — To understand the bitter battle over hydro-electric power and the lobbying pressures behind it, you have to go back to the days when any utility could step up to any river and build a dam wherever it wanted regardless of the effect on people downstream or elsewhere.

Finally, in 1920, Congress stopped this, citing the Constitution which provides that navigable streams are under the jurisdiction of the United States, not of a single state. Congress required that the federal government must regulate the leasing of water-power dam sites and established a Federal Power Commission to issue these leases. Congress further specified that they could be for 50 years only, after which the utility would have amortized its investment, made a profit and the dam site would be available for public use.

However, believe it or not, the new Eisenhower federal power commissioners are now in the process of issuing leases for 99 years, not 50 years.

To show how they are issuing these extra licenses and to illustrate the power of certain big corporations, take a look at the case of Aluminum Corporation of America, the Mellon-controlled giant which once had a complete monopoly on aluminum and was the object of a Justice Department suit to break that monopoly.

ALCOA was so adamant in its refusal to have its hydro-electric power leases regulated by the federal government that in 1941 it refused to build a power plant on the Little Tennessee River despite approaching world war and the urgent need of aluminum for the airplane industry.

ALCOA on October 1, 1940, had filed a declaration of intent to build the power plant, but finally withdrew it, rather than submit to federal regulation.

This caused the federal power commissioners, then under Roosevelt, to state, on March 8, 1941: "Notwithstanding the public interest ALCOA, through its subsidiaries, in effect demonstrated that in its national defense effort it was unwilling to accept the reasonable limitations on unearned increment in the value of its power project provided by Congress in the federal power acts."

The Fontana situation is not the only instance in which ALCOA and its subsidiaries have shown complete unwillingness to accept provisions of the federal law regardless of the consequences to the national defense for the public which they serve," the FPC continued, "the refusal of ALCOA's subsidiary to construct the Fontana project when required to obtain a license indicates that not even the urgent demand of national defense can alter its apparent determination never willingly to submit any of its hydro projects to the duly enacted requirement of federal law."

Meanwhile ALCOA continued to buck the FPC regarding the licensing of three power plants already built on the Little Tennessee and Cheoah Rivers near the Tennessee-

North Carolina border. When Andy Mellon was secretary of the treasury and one of the most potent industrial figures in America his aluminum company got away with this. But in 1941, the FPC under Roosevelt took steps to compel a license.

Thirteen years of bitter litigation followed. Finally almost a year ago, October 25, 1954, with new GOP commissioners on the FPC, ALCOA applied for a license. But in doing so, it devised a new package plan. It lumped the three old, unlicensed projects into a package with a new "Talladega" development.

So the obliging new power commission did not issue a license retroactively to cover the back years ALCOA had been operating without a license. Instead on March 17, 1955, it handed ALCOA a lush bonanza. It granted a license for the entire package which will not expire until 2005 A.D.

Another big company to get in on the package license bonanza is the Montana Power, organized by the Giant Electric Bond and Share.

Montana Power had eight power plants on the Missouri River built between 1906 and 1930 which were never licensed. The FPC in 1943 brought suit to require licenses and did not win until after almost ten years of battling. Finally in 1952 Montana Power applied for eight licenses and on February 3, 1953, was given one of the eight, retroactively, to expire in 1979.

This did not please Montana Power at all. However, this was only 13 days after Eisenhower took office and the old Truman FPC commissioners were still acting. So Montana Power asked for a rehearing, and put a "package" plan before the new Eisenhower commissioners.

It lumped eight old dam sites with a single new proposal, and on June 14, 1955, applied for a single license to cover the nine dams. If the FPC continues its present procedure, as it seems sure to do, the license will now expire in 2005 A.D. Since one dam was built in 1906 this would make a total lease of 99 years.

Third company to stretch out its leases is Pacific Gas and Electric, whose president, James Black, attends Ike's state dinners and is a member of Secretary Sinclair's Business Advisory Council.

Black has two dams, the Caribou and Almaron developments in California, due to expire in 1968. So on January 19, 1955, the new Federal Power Commission gave Pacific Gas and Electric a new license for a "package" covering these two old projects plus two proposed new projects called "Belton" and "Caribou No. 2" and obligingly extended a license until 2004 A.D.

In addition, PG&E "packaged" its Strawberry and Relief dams on the Stanislaus River near San Francisco, due to expire in 1966, with its Melones reservoir power plant, due to expire in 1977.

The FPC then came through with a brand new package license extending up to 2005 A.D. (Copyright, 1955, by Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

In Step With The Sower

State Treasurer Ralph Hill—generally called in Statehouse circles "Mr. Moneybags"—insists that there is a great deal of truth in the old saying, "All is not gold that glitters." He even illustrates that he is correct in his view.

It became necessary to make some changes in money invested by the state and Hill sold $3,000,000 worth of government bonds. At the same time he made a deposit of $2,900,000 of state funds in local banks.

While his mind was busy with high finance he suddenly recalled that he had left a pair of shoes to be half-soled. Personally, he can still keep his mind on pennies and dollars even if state finances are on the basis of millions.

When he asked for his repaired shoes he reached into his pocket for the $2 to pay for them. Like Old Mother Hubbard's cupboard it was bare.

"I had to go to a friend and borrow a couple bucks," the state treasurer laughs. "Luckily, it was before the races started, or probably he wouldn't have had it, either."

A question of the "which came first, the chicken or the egg" variety is likely to be tossed into the lap of the staff of the attorney general shortly. It concerns LB 445, the massage licensing bill passed by the last Legislature.

The bill had stormy sailing, being one of the perennials the law-making body faces. Time after time changes were made to remove objectionable wording.

It provides that a board of examiners shall be appointed, who are graduates of an accredited school of massage. An accredited school first must be recommended by the board of examiners for recognition by the Board of Health. Can a school be accredited without recommendation by the board or can an appointee qualify without proof of graduation from an accredited school? "Solomon" Beck will have to furnish the answers.

The Statehouse seems to have become a haven for runaway parakeets that object to taking a bath or are otherwise tired of human life.

Usually they have come to the attention of amateurs in bird-handling who struggled mightily in getting them returned to their owners.

The latest visitor soared to the ninth floor where he encountered the experts of the Game Commission.

Lloyd Vance soon had it captured and safely caged under a waste basket. He even had pheasant food with which to feed it.

But, before capture, Lenore Fuchs of the probation officer's office had given it a good workout to determine its talking ability. She suspected that it was the little bird that flies up and gives information to the Sower.

Lenore thought it was a good chance to get the gossip of the Statehouse before the Sower. But she reluctantly admitted that she had picked on the wrong bird. This was proven when the owner called for the pet.

Treasurer Ralph Hill, who as a member of the budget committee while in the Legislature was one of the watchdogs of the taxpayers' dollar, is reverting to his old business practice that in order to make money, you have to spend money.

In addition to spending money, he has brought smiles to the faces of his staff. He has just installed a new bookkeeping machine, the first such purchase by the office in 20 years.

Before the purchase was approved, Hill's old friends on the budget committee made him take them to his office and prove that it was needed although several knew requests had been made for several years.

Now installed, the staff proudly say it will do everything but talk and easily with increased work in the office will save hiring another employee who would talk.

Stories Of Famous Hymns

God Will Take Care Of You

Be not dismayed whate'er betide,
God will take care of you;
Beneath His wings of love abide,
God will take care of you.

Thro' days of toil when heart doth fail,
God will take care of you;
When dangers fierce your path assail,
God will take care of you.

All you may need He will provide,
God will take care of you;
Nothing you ask will be denied,
God will take care of you.

No matter what may be the test,
God will take care of you;
Lean, weary one, upon His breast,
God will take care of you.

By HORACE B. POWELL

"Don't worry, daddy. God will take care of mother while you are away".

The Rev. W. S. Martin, worried over the illness of his wife, was about to abandon a preaching engagement one Sunday night when his small son surprised him with this reassuring counsel.

The minister and his family were guests in a New York home at the time and Mr. Martin had been invited to preach in a neighborhood church. The worship hour neared and Mrs. Martin's condition failed to improve. Her husband decided to remain at her side. It was then that his son tried to comfort him.

The little boy's words made the father feel his own lack of faith. He changed his mind about staying home. Instead, he preached that night one of his most telling sermons and at the close a number of listeners professed Christianity.

Walking homeward, Mr. Martin was glad that he had not cancelled his preaching appointment. He found Mrs. Martin in good spirits and, as he came to her bedside, she handed him a bit of paper on which she had scribbled some verses which soon became the hymn, "God Will Take Care Of You".

Sharetts Works For Strong Israel

JERUSALEM, Israel — The principal architect of Israel's foreign relations is the small, brilliant, intense Moshe Sharet, prime minister. Under his direction the new nation looks steadily west. He thinks the West does not always smile back with suitable warmth but that is just one of his many problems.

Since the armistice agreements were signed in 1949, the Arab states have been waging a cold war against Israel. On the borders the conflict occasionally gets hot which creates a special and difficult situation.

This cold war consists chiefly of economic sanctions. Egypt refuses to let ships bound for Israel ports through Suez Canal. Iraq has shut off the oil pipeline which ended at Haifa. This combination forces Israel to import its petroleum supplies from a long way off—Venezuela, chiefly—and to bring them the long way round which adds enormously to the expense.

Syria persuaded the UN Security Council to seal off a vital stretch of the upper Jordan River near the Sea of Galilee so that an important water project has been halted. Lebanon with its world port of Beirut does not trade with Israel.

What will the end be? Sharet replies crisply: "At some undefined period, peace. Until then a long period of waiting and patience. Meanwhile we make Israel stronger and strengthen its ties with other nations."

Sharet reminds Americans impatiently that Israel has "times without number" asked for a mutual defense treaty with the United States. Candidly he says its purpose would be "to bring the United States to our aid if attacked and to stabilize our position in the Middle East."

Would he like to join the North Atlantic Treaty Organization? "Address that question to your own State Department" comes the brisk answer.

Meanwhile, he is at least one

A New Idea

Curtis, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I want to suggest a new idea. Maybe it is a wild one. Anyway, here is a condition. We have now had three droughty years in succession and not much corn has been raised here during those years. A hail storm passed through last year and destroyed some growing crops. Now a farmer of many years experience has suggested that he will have to sell out because of these crop failures. He will then have nothing to carry him along.

Labor would in a comparable circumstance have unemployment compensation. Surely then the farmer needs something of this sort. Unemployment compensation for a farmer! Too new an idea. Maybe Mr. Benson should work on the idea.

VFW Commander Tice Levels A Blast At Ike's Foreign Policy

He Sees Lack Of Leadership

BOSTON (INS) — Commander in Chief Herton B. Tice blasted President Eisenhower's foreign policy Friday on his arrival in Boston for the 56th national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Tice, who has just completed a 23,000 mile inspection tour of the Far East, declared:

"We seem to lack that dynamic, positive, firm and certain leadership that America was endowed with in the past, and which is needed today to lead the peoples of the free world."

"Policy is set by the President. It is his responsibility to set policy. Sec. of State John Foster Dulles has an advisory position."

"The President is striving to do his best. I think it is possible the President has been misled into a change of policy which should not have taken place."

Rhee Briefing
Within the past month, Tice has visited Japan, Korea, Okinawa and Formosa. He was given a complete briefing in Korea by Syngman Rhee and in Formosa by Chiang Kai-shek on the present situation.

He warned of a possible new Pacific war in any "deal" to surrender the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsuo to Red China.

"There is too much uncertainty, too much change in policy from day to day. We need a simple, clear foreign policy which is easy to understand so that our own people and our allies will understand what we seek to accomplish."

Tice's criticism was apparently centered on American policy in the Far East, rather than world wide. He applauded Eisenhower for his actions and his "courageous, daring imagination" at the "summit meeting" recently in Geneva.

Large-Scale War
Tice said he was "convinced" that if Chiang Kai-shek lost the islands, he would "retaliate, not at the original point. But his fliers might hit one of the new big airfields in Red China, and they might in return bomb Formosa, thus starting a large-scale war."

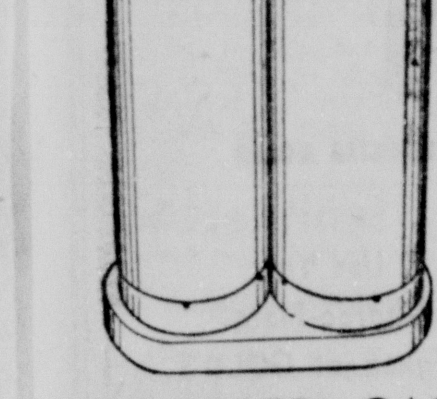

On the home front, the commander-in-chief urged a build up of reserves to 4,000,000, so that the present standing armed forces of 3,000,000 might be cut in half in the next five years, and at the same time the nation's offensive and defensive power would not be weakened.

Tice is completing a one-year term as head of 1,300,000 members of the VFW. He is a lawyer and municipal court judge in Mitchell, S.D.

Independent Role Sought By Japanese

WASHINGTON (U) — Japan's Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu, who a decade ago formally signed his country's surrender to the Allies, declared Friday Japan must now work for complete independence.

Although Japan's occupation ended in 1951, the 68-year-old diplomat told a news conference "the time has come when we must go forward constructively" toward "a complete posture of independence."

"We are going to have to do it by ourselves," he said. His remarks in Japanese were translated by a spokesman.

He said it was "high time we get off to a fresh start for the real reconstruction of Japan."

Shigemitsu said it was this new approach that he particularly wanted to talk over with Secretary of State Dulles and other U.S. officials in a three-day round of meetings starting Monday.

Since taking office early this year, Japan's Conservative Democratic party has stressed its desire for a more independent role in Japan's postwar partnership with the United States.

ALASKA IN NEBRASKA
Seen Behind the Scenes

A trip through Miller's fur storage vault on Eighth Floor is certain to warm the heart of any fur-lover, and at the same time chill her thoroughly. Here, in a huge 48x44-foot area hang row after row of beautiful shining furs, each on separate hanger, gently stirred by breezes as crisp and stimulating as atop an Alaskan mountain peak. The vault's cooling system controls humidity, filters and circulates air, holding the temperature between 32 and 40° year around. In this atmosphere, the most healthful known for furs, pelts retain their life and luster and emerge sleek and shining after a summer's safekeeping.

Before storage, every fur garment passes thru a fur "clinic"—careful inspection, then fumigation in the gas chamber which is deadly to all insect life. Repairs and re-styling keep a staff of eight fur experts in the adjacent fur workroom, well occupied during the summer months. Quality garments, varying from "little" furs to luxurious American mink, are made to order in the factory, with canvas patterns fitted to the customer before the precious pelts are cut.

While most furs merely "summer" in storage, there are numerous coats which are involved in estates, or whose owners are living abroad, which have not left the vault for as long as eight or ten years.

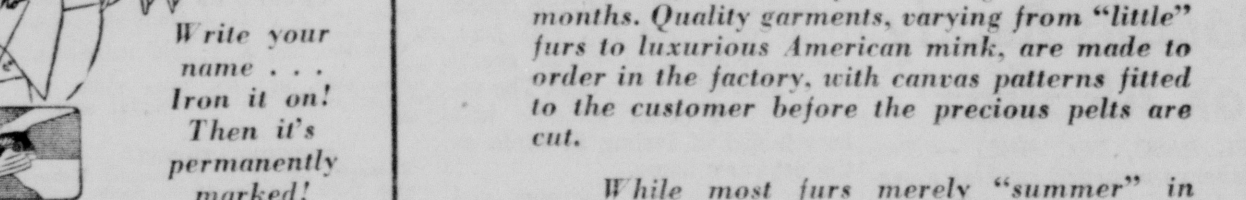

Miller's factory and vault have been in operation for 42 years, designing and making quality garments guaranteed by their Miller & Paine label, and safe guarding furs from the ever-present dangers of FIRE, THEFT and MOTHS.

FBI Redoubles Efforts To Find Lost Ransom

... Finding Of 2nd $20 Stirs Cops

ST. LOUIS (INS) — FBI agents Friday redoubled their effort to unearth more of the missing half of the record $600,000 Greenlease ransom following the discovery of a second $20 bill paid the kidnappers of the 6-year-old son of a wealthy Kansas City auto dealer.

The note was found at the Federal Reserve Bank in St. Louis. On Aug. 3, a similar $20 bill cropped up at Minot, N. D.

The discovery in St. Louis was the first in the city since the infamous crime which sent the convicted kidnappers of Bobby Greenlease to their execution in a Missouri gas chamber at little more than two months after their capture in St. Louis the night of Oct. 6, 1953.

Carl Austin Hall, 34, and his paramour accomplice, 41-year-old Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, went to their deaths after being given a last-minute chance by Federal Marshal William Tatum to disclose if they knew anything about the missing $303,720 ransom.

Shook Heads

Sitting side-by-side in the gas chamber at Jefferson City, the pair shook their heads negatively when asked that morning of Dec. 18, 1953, if they had anything to tell him.

Since then, the search for the missing ransom has gone on relentlessly.

Two of the key figures in the case, former Lieut. Louis Shouder and ex-patrolman Elmer Dolan, then a corporal, are now serving federal prison terms following their convictions on perjury charges.

Brother Bank Bandits Ready For Alcatraz

EL PASO, Tex. (INS) — Two brothers who tossed aside an arsenal of guns to surrender for bank stickups in Missouri, Oklahoma and Ohio, were readied Friday for terms in Alcatraz.

A federal judge in El Paso sentenced Robert Dale Boyles, 31, and his 26-year-old brother, Trent, to 50-year terms. They are expected to go to Alcatraz as Judge R. E. Thomason branded them the "worst criminals" ever to appear before him.

The pair pleaded guilty to last spring's $1,507 robbery of a bank at O'Fallon, Mo., a $4,680 bank robbery at Creston, O., and an $11,439 bank robbery at Moore, Okla.

Federal agents trapped the brothers last July near El Paso. The pair surrendered meekly despite being armed with numerous pistols and rifles. Some $11,000 of the loot was recovered.

The brothers said they "blew the rest on high living" with their wives.

Power A Problem; Water Use Spurts

Hot August days have spurred the demand for water but the city's power supply is currently the main cause for concern.

The power load Thursday hit 16,240 kilowatts, just short of the 16,464 kilowatts record high one day in July.

Water demand on Thursday was 44,559,000 gallons. Water and light plant Superintendent Fred Blumner stated that he felt the peak was past on water demand due to the drop by this time of year in garden irrigation.

A new power peak, however, could still be reached, he said.

Inquest Called Into Heiress' Sudden Death

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An inquest has been called for next Friday into the death of Mrs. Doris Jean Silver Ostreicher, chain store heiress who was separated from the Miami, Fla., policeman she eloped with two months ago.

Mrs. Ostreicher, daughter of Herman Silver, vice president of Food Fair, Inc., died Wednesday night in the apartment of a friend. An autopsy was performed Thursday at the morgue.

Dr. Melville Aston, acting medical examiner, set the inquest date and said:

"This unfortunate death has resulted in widespread discussion and rumors, many of them without foundation. However, there are a number of reasonable and proper questions, questions which justice commands be answered."

Full Report
Dr. Aston said laboratory tests are continuing in an effort to establish cause of death. He has promised a full report as soon as the pathology report is ready.

"Until then I cannot say anything else," he said.

Detectives of the homicide squad Friday questioned Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz in whose apartment Mrs. Ostreicher died. The attractive red-haired socialite had complained of feeling ill while at the Schwartz home.

She went into a bedroom and died shortly afterward.

Army Steps Up Its Development Of New Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Friday acted to push development of new weapons—a field in which the Hoover Commission says the military services have not been "sufficiently daring and imaginative."

Wilber Brucker, new secretary of the Army, created the post of director of research and development. To it he named William Martin, a former vice president of Bell Telephone Laboratories who has been serving recently as deputy assistant secretary of defense.

Brucker said the Army "must be foremost" in the realm of new weapons and henceforth research on them will be given "the highest possible priority." Heretofore research and development has been directed by one of the assistant secretaries of the Army, along with other duties.

Martin, a resident of Short Hills, N. J., will concentrate all his time on research and development and will report directly to Brucker.

Ground Water Levels Below Average

Ground water levels have dropped to below average in most areas of the state because of nature's reluctance to pour water into underground storage sands and because of heavy irrigation demands, water experts said Friday.

In some localities, levels are the lowest in more than 20 years.

This is especially true in parts of the lower Platte Valley, according to C. F. Keech of Lincoln, ground water official for the U.S. Geological Survey.

It's not a situation-come-lately, however.

Two or three years of below normal rainfall have contributed to the condition. As of last winter, ground water levels at some Nebraska points were the lowest of record. Levels might have bounced back quickly with a good wet spring, but the spring rise failed to materialize this year.

Greater Need

Even if water were not being drawn for irrigation, ground water levels would be down, according to State Geologist E. C. Reed.

"When water becomes short in Nebraska, everyone likes to blame some other person, whereas often it's the result of some condition of nature," Reed said.

But the inadequate recharge of the underground supply has been aggravated by the greater need and higher irrigation withdrawals resulting from heat and drought, Reed and Keech concurred.

"You can't pump all summer without lowering the water level," said Keech. "And there hasn't been enough rainfall to meet the needs of growing plants, let alone to recharge underground storage."

As of early this year, Nebraska had an estimated 11,000 irrigation wells furnishing water to about 700,000 acres.

Reed said it's not known how many new wells have been drilled this year.

New Wells Drilled

"All we know is that all irrigation well drillers seem to be working day and night. In the last month or two this office has had a continual stream of people seeking information on irrigation wells.

Keech said it's inevitable that with rapid development of irrigation, serious ground water declines will occur in localized areas. But regionally, the water table situation is "not too bad," he observed.

A well near Gibbon, which the U.S. Geological Survey uses as one of its "key" wells to measure ground water levels, is at its lowest point in 25 years of record keeping, Keech reported. A "key" well near Crawford is at a 21-year low.

A well near Ashland is slightly below its previous 22-year low but a well in Holt County near Ewing is slightly above the 20-year average, according to Keech.

The Gibbon well's level is about 10 feet under the previous high measured in 1932, and about 2½ feet under the previous low of last summer.

Although Nebraska regulates its surface waters, irrigation wells are not subject to state regulation.

Study Ordered

The 1955 Nebraska Legislature ordered a study of the state's

Boy, Not Babies, Interests 'Sitter'

SCOTT'S BLUFF, Neb. (AP) — A baby sitter who didn't stay on the job aroused the ire of Scott's Bluff police.

Neighbors phoned police that the baby sitter had taken off with a boy friend, leaving three small children to fend for themselves. Officers took the role of baby sitters until the young girl returned.

ground water situation. A seven member committee will make the study and report its findings to the 1957 Legislature.

But Sen. Don Thompson of McCook, one of the resolution's sponsors, said backer had no intention of regulating the underground water if such regulation is not needed.

Meanwhile, well irrigators in the Shelton area met Friday night to discuss their well troubles.

Reed said one reason for the difficulties is the use of too large pumps.

Some wells, for instance, can supply a 10 inch pump when water levels are high. But when water levels drop, these larger pumps haven't enough water to draw upon and suck air instead.

The same troubles were reported in the Shelton area last year. And although this area ordinarily enjoys a good recharge in the spring, it failed to receive it this year, Reed said.

Waugh To Attend International Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Samuel C. Waugh, assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, will attend a meeting of governors of the International Bank and Monetary Fund at Istanbul, Turkey, Sept. 12-17.

Waugh is alternate United States governor. Treasury Secretary Humphrey is this country's governor—or director—on the board of the financial agencies.

Waugh plans to leave Washington Sept. 9.

HERRINGTON TO CONDUCT TEACHERS' REFERENDUM

Gov. Anderson Friday designated Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington to supervise a referendum among members of the State School Retirement System on the question of going under Federal Social Security.

A 1955 legislative act provided for such a referendum.

The governor originally asked the Nebraska State Education Association to make the poll, but officials of that organization declined, pointing out members of that group are interested parties.

The governor asked Herrington to conduct the referendum at the earliest convenient date.

The time will be announced later.

Talented Cover Girl

MISS MYLEEN MERRILL

If by chance you happened to pick up a copy of the July Musical Leader you doubtless noticed the attractive young woman who was chosen as the cover girl. But there was more than beauty to prompt the choice Miss Myleen Merrill is a cover girl with a wonderful talent—"A singer with personality and charm"—says the Musical Leader.

Anyway, Miss Merrill now is in Nebraska, the guest of her parents in Fairbury, and we are told that there is a minimum amount of visiting and relaxing going on in her home—the holiday is primarily devoted to practice due to the fact that Miss Merrill, soprano, gives her debut recital at the Goodman

Theater in Chicago on Monday, Oct. 3, when her accompanist will be the assistant director of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, George Shick.

Following the recital Miss Merrill will be a guest artist in Duluth, Minn., and later there is a season well packed with concerts, recitals throughout the Midwest, and performances, as soloist, with the New York City Opera Co.

Miss Merrill, who received her training at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago, plans to remain in Fairbury until early September—and perhaps somewhere between the hours of vocalizing she may find time to practice her two other arts—culinary and dressmaking.

Plan Autumn Weddings

Miss Shirley May Holsan, whose betrothal to Norman C. Petersen of Blue Springs was revealed recently, has announced that her wedding will be an event of Saturday, Sept. 10. The ceremony will be solemnized at 9:30 o'clock in the morning at St. Mary's Church in Wymore.

For her maid of honor, Miss Holsan has chosen Miss Donita Lempka of Tecumseh, and her bridesmaids will be Miss Jane Ann Lutz of Omaha, and Mrs. Kenneth Schultz of Beatrice.

The flower girl will be Miss LaVonne Blaes of Osage City, Kan., and carrying the ring will be Richard Holsan, brother of the bride-to-be.

Leo Walsh of Emmett, Kan., will serve Mr. Petersen as best man, and the ushers will be Harold Holsan of Burchard, also a brother of the bride-elect, and Ronnie Petersen of Blue Springs, Mr. Petersen's brother.

Also a September bride-elect is Miss Fern Brockman who has selected Sunday, Sept. 18, as the date for her marriage to Hubert Miller of Carleton. The ceremony will take place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at Trinity Lutheran Church in Hartington.

Mrs. Darrell Tuttle of Oklahoma City, will be her sister's matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Jean Lofgren of Fremont, and Miss Barbara Crawford.

Serving as best man will be Donald Lubben of Carleton, and the ushers will be Allen Miller, Mr. Miller's brother, and Donald Braun, both of Carleton.

Naming the members of her bridal party for her wedding, which will take place on Saturday morning, Sept. 17, is Miss Kathryn Hoffman of Beatrice, who will become the bride of Richard Conrad of Steinauer.

As her matron of honor, the bride-to-be has chosen Mrs. Otto McGinley, Jr., and her bridesmaid will be her fiancée's sister, Miss Nora Conrad of Steinauer.

Charles Conrad of Steinauer will serve his brother as best man, and the ushers will be Robert Schmit, John Conrad of Steinauer, also a brother of the bridegroom-elect, and Michael Delisi of Scott Air Force Base, Ill.

Miss Hoffman will be a member of the August graduating class of the St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing.

Raymond Clapper of Washington, D. C., representing CARE, will be the banquet speaker, and a talk on, "Community Government," will be given by Dr. Otto Hoiberg.

Also a speaker will be Mrs. Chandra Dissanayake of India, who is attending the University of Nebraska on a scholarship provided by the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs.

Miss Barbara Crowe, a popular September bride-elect, has chosen the members of her wedding party for her marriage to Don Reeves of Central City, which will take place on Thursday Sept. 1.

For her matron of honor, Miss Crowe has named her sister-in-law, Mrs. Donald Crowe of Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, and her bridesmaid will be Miss Virginia Reeves of Central City, Mr. Reeves' sister.

Preceding the afternoon service, the candles will be lighted by Mrs. Leon Lehr and Miss Kathleen Reeves of Central City, also a sister of the bridegroom-elect.

Wayne Marsh of Omaha will serve as best man, and the corps of ushers will include Miss Crowe's brother, Donald Crowe of Vancouver, her fiancée's brother, Ladd Reeves of Central City, and Glenn Marsh of Omaha.

The bride-to-be was honored last Friday evening at a pre-nuptial shower and dessert supper held at the home of Mrs. Franklin Keim. Assisting Mrs. Keim as hostesses were Mrs. E. C. Conard, Mrs. J. H. Claybaugh, Mrs. W. E. Lyness, Mrs. R. D. Stage, Mrs. William J. Loeffel and Mrs. E. G. Maxwell.

And last Thursday evening, Mrs. Lloyd Hinkley entertained informally at her home in courtesy to Miss Crowe. Following a dessert supper, a miscellaneous shower was presented to the honoree.

THERE'S not quite the gaiety in this last week-end in August as is promised in the weeks ahead—but it is far from a dull period even so—We've told you about the dinner-and-dancing-under-the-stars party that Hillcrest Club is having this evening—and we have some more reservations to mention, incidentally—

We've also gone into the activities for the members of the American Institute of Interior Decorators who are in town this week-end—the reception, the luncheon and the dinner—and all of that, plus the Hillcrest festivities, wipes the social slate pretty clean.

HOWEVER there is plenty of news which seems to revolve around the homecoming theme, and before we begin telling who is home from where, we'll complete the story of the Hillcrest dinner dance.

In one of the groups at the club will be Maj. and Mrs. George Biggs, Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Kahley, Capt. and Mrs. Charles Vollmer, and Capt. R. A. Julien.

And at a no host table for 10 will be Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jelinek, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Schrepf, Mr. and Mrs. John Hallett and Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Durfee.

AS you know the marriage of Miss Marlene Stroh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. George Stroh of Lincoln, to James Ahlquist of Boston, Mass., takes place this evening in Boston. We hear that Miss Stroh will have as her attendants Miss Cecelia Koehnky of Kearney, who will be the maid of honor; Miss Barbara Turner and Miss Jean Thomas of Lincoln, the bridesmaids.

THE fleet is in—as far as Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Kiess are concerned—their son, Louis Kiess arrived a few days ago on a two weeks leave, but at the moment is at Lake Okoboji where he will spend a few days as the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Leslie Chism, and their son, George.

TALKED for a moment with Miss Janet Healey who is just back from California where she, her aunt, Mrs. William Gerhold—and her cousin, Miss Mary Gerhold, spent a few weeks visiting points of interest including Los Angeles and San Francisco.

City officials report 155-pound, 5-6 Joe must have saved at least 19 lives after he, his wife and their two children narrowly escaped drowning.

"I'll never forget it as long as I live," says Joe, who with his family are being sheltered temporarily in a local school.

Realized Danger

Visibly disturbed, even though a week has elapsed, Joe told a newspaper that he first realized the imminent danger of the flood early last Friday when police rapped on his door.

By the time he awakened his wife, Eileen; his son, Joe, 13, and daughter, Mary Ann, 11, the waters were beginning to eddy into the first-floor kitchen.

"As we moved up to the second floor," he said, "we could hear people from all sides hysterically hollering 'Flood' and crying for help. Firemen were almost up to their necks in water. With the help of a ladder, the firemen managed to rescue young Joe, and were in the process of evacuating a 3-year-old child when the ladder buckled, struck by a pile of lumber, and the child plunged into the river. "A fireman dove in," said Alishauskas, "but it was already too late."

Moved Up

By this time, the waters were sweeping through the second floor of the Alishauskas home and the family moved to the top story.

He said that from the third floor he looked out and saw a boat, abandoned by firemen when its motor failed, tied to a telephone pole within his reach.

"If it hadn't been for that boat," he declared, "we surely would have all been killed."

With that boat, Joe not only piloted his family to safety, but made several trips, carrying women and children on his back from the rear of the window and literally throwing them to a neighbor, Ozzie Tomasitis, who was in the craft. As the last of this group was safely in the boat, the water on the third floor was up to Joe's neck.

2 More Trips

Said Joe: "As we worked the boat to shore, with a stick and one oar, I heard neighbors cry to me from nearby roof-tops, 'Joe, please come back for us.'"

"I made two more trips, rescuing those and others stranded on their roof-tops."

On the final trip back to dry land, he said, the current had become so strong that the boat might have capsized when a pile of lumber swept it toward shore.

As the boat hit the shore on this final trip said Joe, the other occupants were pulled to dry land, but he was struck by a piece of lumber and carried under the stream.

He said the current was so strong, his shoes were pulled off and he went under twice, his lungs choked with water, before he managed to pull himself to shore.

"People keep telling me to forget the horror I saw that night, now that it's all over. But, I can't forget it. I'll never forget it as long as I live."

Machinery Released

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Secretary of Commerce S. C. Weeks arrived in flood-riddled Connecticut Friday and immediately released half a million pieces of machinery held in reserve in case of an atom bomb attack.

He said the machinery, of "every kind imaginable," was available to Connecticut on a need basis for cleanup or other work.

"We want to get the plants back in operation and we'll worry about leases later," said Weeks.

Weeks also said the Commerce Department will act as a clearing house to help businessmen obtain all sorts of federal aid to rebuild.

Decision For Bobo Unpopular

By CHRIS EDMONDS
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson had his hands full all the way Friday night but won an unpopular unanimous decision over young Joe Giambra before a booing Cow Palace crowd.

Olson weighed 165, Giambra 161. The decision for the world champion was greeted with loud boos despite the fact Olson was fighting before a hometown crowd.

Referee Jack Downey had it 58-52, Judge Ray Flores 57-52 1/2, and Judge Vern Bybee 56-53 1/2. The Associated Press scored it for Olson 55-54 1/2, under the California 11-point system.

The victory was Olson's second since his third round knockout by light heavyweight champion Archie Moore in New York two months ago.

Giambra, an Army private fighting out of Fort Hood, Tex., was unbeaten in four previous fights this year against opposition nowhere near Olson's caliber.

Giambra showed a sparkling left hook in the early going and appeared to be scoring easily against the more cautious Olson. The champion, however, landed the first good punch of the fight, a chopping right to the head, then scored with a left-right-left combination which showed Giambra back onto the ropes.

Olson showed his usual hard-punching body attack which got better as the fight progressed. He seemed to solve the defense which Giambra threw up.

The always-busy champion's relentless pursuit of the 24-year-old youngster from Buffalo, N. Y., wore the soldier down. In the ninth round Olson cut Giambra's right eye above the lid. The blood flowing from the minor cut appeared to bother Giambra.

The champion used his favorite tactic of tying up an opponent with a brutal attack which forced Giambra onto the ropes a good share of virtually every round. As a result, Giambra's left was ineffective.

NACOGDOCHES, Tex.
A bus loaded with Bryan Air Force Base baseball players crashed into a deep dry creek 15 miles north of here Friday, killing two and injuring 13 others.

The team was en route to Barksdale Air Force Base at Shreveport, La., for a baseball game.

A state highway patrolman said the right front tire on the bus blew out, throwing the vehicle off the road at an embankment over a dry creek. The front and rear of the bus was jammed into the sides of the creek sealing off both ends of the wreckage.

The injured managed to crawl out the windows or were helped out by rescuers.

Trapped in the wreckage and fatally injured were James C. Kirkpatrick, the driver of the bus, and Lloyd D. Buresh, II. Both died in a Nacogdoches hospital.

Indians Only One Game Out

Cleveland Knocks Off Yankees By 5-2

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's Indians climbed back to within one game of the league-leading New York Yankees Friday night as they won their third of the season against New York, with two defeats. Ray Narleski was in the final two putouts in the ninth.

Byrne was replaced on the mound in the eighth by righthander Tom Morgan.

First baseman Ferris Fain got three hits off Byrne, and batted in two of the Tribe's five runs.

The Indians wasted no time in scoring in the first inning. Their leadoff man, Al Smith, singled to center, and so did Bobby Avila. Ralph Kiner worked Byrne for a walk, and the bases were loaded with none out.

Smith came home with the first run as Al Rosen hit into a double play. After Larry Doby drew a walk, Fain singled to left to bring in Avila. That ended the scoring, although Jim Hegan followed with a single. Doby got only as far as third as Fain was picked off rounding second.

With one out in the ninth, McDougald lofted the ball over the left field fence for a homer. Then Lemon issued a walk and was replaced by Narleski. Bill Skowron, batting for Morgan, hit into a double play.

On the Indians' bench were Larry Doby, suffering a pulled thigh muscle, and Gene Woodling, hit in the ribs by a pitched ball last night. Doby started the game, but was forced to the sidelines in the first, replaced by Hoot Evers.

Another Cleveland hard-hitter, Vic Wertz, was in a hospital with polio. He complained of feeling ill before Thursday night's opener which the Yanks won 5-2.

—Crisis Talks— Sultan Is On His Way Out

French Premier Hopes For Moroccan Peace

AIX LES BAINS, France (AP)—Premier Edgar Faure ended his Moroccan crisis conference Friday night with indications that Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafah would be eased unwillingly from his throne.

Faure and a committee of five French ministers have spent most of the week here conferring with Moroccan and French leaders.

At the end Faure told a news conference he was convinced a satisfactory settlement would be reached.

Last-Minute Attempt

Moulay Friday attempted to throw a last-minute block into the machinery. He announced firm intentions of holding on to his throne.

But French officials did not appear to be taking his threat too seriously.

Faure did not disclose what the committee would recommend to the French cabinet. But reliable informants said it was most likely to include three points:

1. Removal of Moulay, the nominal sovereign, and his replacement by a council of the throne—a sort of regency. The former Sultan, Mohammed Ben Youssef, deposed two years ago by the French, would not be permitted to return to the throne as the Moroccan nationalists are demanding. But he would be allowed to return to France from exile in Madagascar pending a final decision on his status.

2. Establishment of a Moroccan government of national union, representing the main political groups, under the council of the throne.

Would Replace Protectorate

3. Negotiation between this government and France of a new convention defining their relationship. This would take the place of the present treaty establishing a French protectorate over Morocco and which the Istiglal (Independence) Treaty of Morocco finds out-moded.

SULTAN MOHAMMED BEN MOULAY ARAFA

It was generally accepted, too, that the French resident general in Morocco, Gilbert Grandval, would be replaced as part of the general settlement. It was Grandval who advocated removing Moulay, but his moderate policies stirred up a hornets' nest among French residents of Morocco, who believed these policies encouraged the nationalists to violence.

Final Protest

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad told about a steam locomotive that wouldn't go to the scrap heap without a final protest.

The old iron horse was part of a 69-car train being towed to the scrap yard at nearby Glassport. The engine jumped the track and pulled off five cars before the train was stopped.

That tied up traffic for several hours, but repair crews got the locomotive into the scrap yard.

'NO MORE PROBLEMS' —SCHMIDT

... Honeymooning

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Airman Daniel Schmidt, honeymooning with his wife at an Oregon seaside resort, Friday in a copyrighted story in the San Francisco Call-Bulletin said, "We haven't any more problems."

Schmidt said he is debating whether to re-enlist in the Air Force or go to Montana University to study wild life technology.

In a telephoned story from DeLake, Ore., as told to Howard C. Hayden of the Call-Bulletin, the airman said:

"Una and I feel all our problems are over.

"She's happy all right.

"I don't feel really bitter now. I'm just happy."

He quoted his wife as saying that Alford Fine, the logger she said she wed when she believed Schmidt was killed after his plane was shot down over Korea, "is out of the picture. As for the annulment, she told me that is all being taken care of.

"We haven't any more problems. "I do feel more relaxed now, more than I did when I came back from two years as a prisoner in Red China but we still would like some more privacy."

Schmidt said the honeymooning couple plans to drive back to his mother's home in Portland Saturday.

He said Una, and probably their 2½-year-old son, would accompany him when he reports to Bolling Field in Washington, D. C., "in a couple of weeks."

Murder Verdict Returned Against Dead U.S. Airman

RAMSGATE, England (AP)—An English inquest jury Friday night returned a murder verdict against the late Napoleon Green, American airman from Chicago who ran amok Wednesday. He killed three persons and wounded nine others.

Green later killed himself after a gun battle on the beach with American military and English police. The inquest was into the death of British RAF Acting Cpl. Raymond Peter Grayer of Brighton, who was shot three times in the back by Green.

After the verdict, Coroner W. R. Mowl said: "I don't think this case should pass without some mention of the bravery displayed by both the American and our civil police in this affair. This man was doubly armed and there was no doubt that he was using his arms — he was firing at anybody. It was most praiseworthy that police of both forces were prepared to take this man who, for all we know, was out of his mind."

U. S. Airman 3C James Robert Hall, testified that he found a note at the Manston Air Base. It read: "Today I die — Napoleon Green."

Speeding Truck Picks Up Clumsy Hiker—A Plane

OROFINO, Idaho (AP)—A light airplane gliding down toward the runway landed smack atop a speeding truck instead Friday and was carried piggy-back 200 yards down the highway by the unknowing driver.

No one was hurt and the damage to the plane and truck was comparatively light.

Pilot Merel Bowler, 45, of Orofino, said he was only seconds away from a routine landing when "the truck drove under us," Rex Yates, 30, Clarkston, Wash., was a passenger in the plane.

Saw Shadow

"I heard a little noise like a blowout or something but I didn't know anything was back there," said Lloyd Coons, 27, the truck driver. "I couldn't see anything in my rear view mirror. Then a wing tipped and I saw a shadow."

"When I saw the shadow, I stopped, got out and looked up there. The two pilots were looking out of their cabin and they weren't hurt at all."

"I thought he was going to take us all the way to Kahmiah," Bowler said. Kamiah is about 20 miles down the road.

7 More Inmates Escape In Ontario

GUELPH, Ont. (AP)—Seven prisoners from the Ontario Reformatory escaped in two separate groups late Friday from reformatory guards. Two were recaptured by provincial police an hour later.

Police and reformatory guards were still searching for the others early Friday night.

Constable Carl Mark captured two of the seven prisoners five miles east of here. The pair were identified as Bruce Hand and John Cameron.

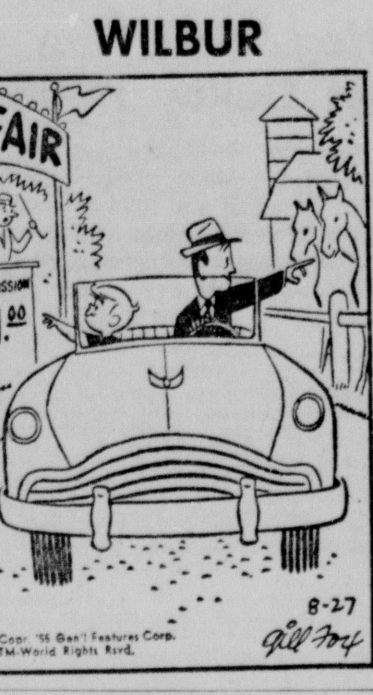

Nine prisoners have fled the reformatory in the last four days.

3-State Reserve Meeting Scheduled

OMAHA (AP)—Air Reserve squadron commanders from Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota will meet at Fort Omaha Sunday to plan future reserve activities.

Lt. Col. Homer W. Schiehl, commander of the 9154th Air Reserve Group, Omaha, will conduct the meeting.

Reservists will provide most of the program with permanent officers acting in an advisory capacity.

Meet Star Carrier Gary Schroeder

A young Oxford, Neb. businessman, Gary Schroeder, 11, found out within a short time that people like to do business with a good businessman.

Eleven-year-old Gary is just that. In April he started his morning Lincoln Star route with three subscribers. He soon realized that when a salesman has a good product they like to do business with him.

Along with his salesmanship Gary provided his customers with the best service he is capable of giving.

As a result of his efforts Gary has increased his list of subscribers to more than 20 in four months.

But Gary is a good businessman in other ways, too. With his profits from his route, he is buying U. S. Savings Bonds. Each collection time he converts his profits into Savings Stamps which in turn are converted into bonds when he accumulates $18.75 in stamps.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Schroeder, Gary is also an avid sportsman. He likes all sports. This summer he learned to swim by practicing in swimming pools at Arapahoe and Holdrege. He plays football and basketball in school where he is in the seventh grade.

However, his favorite sport is fishing. Each summer his parents take him to the Sand Hills to fish in Fry Lake near Hyannis. On his next trip he will have an opportunity to use the pup tent he earned for his excellent work on his newspaper route.

Gary's parents encourage his route carrying activities. They feel he is learning about business procedures that will be beneficial to him in the future.

Red Policeman Surrenders To West Germans

BERLIN (AP)—A 21-year-old agent of the Communist East German security police gave himself up to West Berlin police after he was ordered to kidnap a friend, it was announced Friday.

West Berlin police said Heinz Guenther Kasueske turned himself in last Tuesday, saying he "wants no part in such methods."

Kasueske told police that after he refused to join the militarized barracks police last May he was forced to report to the East Zone security police on fellow workers at the East Berlin Rummelsburg power plant.

He said he later stole some papers from a friend's home for the police. But when he was ordered to lure his friend into the Soviet sector with movie or theater tickets, Kasueske had enough. He walked into the first West Berlin police station he saw and gave himself up.

Kasueske is now under arrest.

Wilson Bids Low On LAFB Gates

OMAHA (AP)—Wilson Construction Co., Lincoln, was apparent low among four bidders on construction of security gate facilities at the Lincoln Air Force Base, the Omaha District Engineer's office reported Friday.

The Wilson basic bid was $51,509, compared with a government estimate of $46,925. This set of specifications called for concrete masonry exterior walls.

On specifications calling for masonry exterior of a four inch brick the Wilson bid was $52,400 compared with a government estimate of $47,130; and on alternate specifications calling for 8-inch structural tile the Wilson bid was $51,854 compared to a government estimate of $46,980.

Village 'Adopted'

HOLLAND, Mich. (AP)—The city of Holland has "adopted" flood-swept Riverton, Conn., a village of about 600 persons, to receive emergency relief items.

Mayor Robert Vischer, in an official proclamation, urged "citizens of Holland to donate articles of clothing, food and bedding to relieve suffering."

Lad Loses Arm When Dynamite Explosion Aimed At Pajama Party

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP)—A dynamite explosion, apparently intended to disrupt a girls' pajama party, injured two youths — one losing an arm.

The injured were Gene Cooper, 18, and John Roger Everly, 20, both of Pararie City, 25 miles south of Galesburg, where the blast occurred.

State Policeman Hugh Erwin said he believes the blast was intended as a prank to frighten Marilyn Tucker and several guests attending a slumber party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tucker.

The policeman said the injured youths were unable to give an account of the mishap. Friends of the victims related, Erwin said, that Cooper and Everly told them an hour before the blast of plans to "set off dynamite" near the Tucker house.

"The dynamite turned the roots

Wilson Refuses British Bid For Higher U.S. Offer

WASHINGTON (INS)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson refused Friday to award an electrical contract to a British firm which underbid U.S. manufacturers by nearly a million dollars.

Instead, Wilson gave the contract to two Pittsburgh companies in an effort to relieve unemployment in western Pennsylvania. He stressed his action does not set a precedent on Pentagon buying.

The contract to supply six generators and three transformers for the new Chief Joseph Dam in Washington state was turned over to the Westinghouse Electric Corp. and the Pennsylvania Transformer Co.

The English Electric export and trading Co., the low bidder, had offered to supply the equipment for $5,931,326. Westinghouse plans to build the generators for $6,338,491 and the second Pittsburgh firm will provide the transformers for $556,868.

Wilson said he acted under a presidential order issued last December which permits government officials to reject foreign bids where an American manufacturer plans to complete a contract in an area of unemployment.

$350,000 Fire Sweeps Through Pittsburgh Plant

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Fire set off by a terrific explosion, roared off of control for three hours Friday night at the oil and chemical plant of the Carigill Corp. near suburban Carnegie.

Shortly after 11 p.m. EDT and about three hours after the first alarm was sounded, firemen said the blaze was under control.

No one was reported injured. Tentative and unofficial damage estimates were in the neighborhood of $350,000.

Twenty suburban fire companies fought the flames and kept them from spreading to the main plant.

Thousands of gallons of naphtha, resin and other inflammables were consumed.

Millionaire Sued By Former Office Clerk

LOS ANGELES (INS)—A millionaire real estate dealer Haig M. Prince, 56, must appear in Los Angeles Superior Court Sept. 21 to answer a suit by a Burbank girl charging he fathered her child.

The suit was filed by Linda Little, 21, who asks $636 a month for support of the baby, Stephanie, born last May.

Miss Little, who formerly was a clerk on Prince's office staff, claims the romance with her one-time boss began in August of 1952 and thereafter she went to trysts with him two or three times a week in his 45-room mansion.

She claimed they also took numerous trips together to vacation spots in California.

Prince was divorced by Mary Newell Prince in 1946.

Grain Mart Mixed; Early Grain Fails

CHICAGO (AP)—An early advance in grains failed to hold on the Board of Trade Friday and the market ended mixed.

Soybeans and the deferred corn futures still held a part of what had been substantial gains when the final gong sounded. But September corn was lower, as were all wheat, oats and rye futures.

Wheat closed 1/4-1/2 lower, corn 1/2 lower, oats 1/2 lower, soybeans 1/2 higher and rye 1/2 lower to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Pen Officials Voice Doubt Of Con's 'Beating' Story

Nebraska Penitentiary officials Friday reported in effect they have found little to substantiate the allegations of a prisoner who says he was attacked and beaten "unmercifully" by two inmates during the recent prison riot because he "knew too much."

Howard D. Mitchell, who entered the prison from Box Butte County, included the reference to the alleged beating in a federal court pleading for a writ of habeas corpus. The writ was denied by Judge John W. Delehant.

Warden Joseph B. Bovey said Mitchell mentioned nothing about being attacked at the time authorities were seeking out any injured after the riot, and only reported the attack later, when requesting an interview. Mitchell had opportunities to ask for medical attention but didn't, the warden said.

Superficial
Bovey said the injuries mentioned were superficial, consisting of a few bruises, that warranted neither treatment nor hospitalization.

"Mitchell was checked Friday by the chief medical officer and said he did not want to see the doctor and also admitted that he had talked to the doctor the morning after the riot and had requested no medical attention," Bovey said.

Judge Delehant denied Mitchell's habeas corpus request on grounds that Mitchell had not exhausted all his state court remedies.

Mitchell contends that although he was charged with fraudulently obtaining money or property, he actually was sentenced for being a habitual criminal. This, he contends, was illegal.

Taken To U.S. Supreme Court
Mitchell's request for a review of Nebraska Supreme Court action in his case is pending in the U.S. Supreme Court.

In his memorandum, Judge Delehant commented as follows on Mitchell's allegation he was beaten:

"Petitioner assigns as one of the grounds for seeking court intervention his apprehension of serious violence to his person at the hands of fellow prisoners. This apprehension is said to be related, in some manner, to recent intramural disturbances in the state's Penitentiary.

"This court is without authority to control the institutional discipline of Nebraska's penal institutions."

NP Runway Paving Start To Be Soon

Paving of an extension of the northwest-southeast runway at the North Platte airport should begin in the immediate future, according to a report to the State Aeronautics Commission Friday. Contracts have been signed.

Paving of the northwest-southeast runway, taxiway and apron at Sidney is 92 per cent completed. A dedication date will be announced soon.

Bids will be taken Sept. 13 for fencing, grading and seeding of the runway and taxiway and installation of lights at Auburn.

To Be Taken Soon
Bids for a new medium intensity lighting system and for day marking at the edges of the landing strips at Beatrice will be taken as soon as the project application has been approved by the C.A.A.

Paving of a taxiway at Hastings has been completed.

Improvements at Holdrege await word on the availability of federal funds for the proposed work.

Contracts for paving of additional apron and taxiway at Omaha have been signed, but work is not expected to begin until next spring, the work will be in the fixed base operators' area.

Construction of an airport east of the Harlan County Dam will be started as soon as necessary lease agreements are signed.

Lincoln-Neb. City Bus Discontinued Without Approval

Bus service between Lincoln and Nebraska City by the Nebraska City-Lincoln Line has been "temporarily discontinued," the State Railway Commission said Friday it has learned.

A commission official said no request to discontinue service has been received and the bus company will be informed it needs permission to drop service.

A commission investigator reported that Harold E. Hart of Nebraska City, one of the co-owners, said operations were discontinued temporarily because a bus was lost by fire.

Towns on the line include Benet, Palmyra, Unadilla, Syracuse and Dunbar.

WCS Leader Calls For 'Caring' As Way To Peace, Brotherhood

Mrs. Charles H. Smith of Gothenburg, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church, spoke Friday at the closing session of the annual School of Missions sponsored by the WCS.

"When we reach the kind of caring that comes only by walking with Christ and having Him always at our side, the day of world peace will come and the day of brotherhood shall dawn," Mrs. Smith told the 600 women attending the conference at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

"The term brotherhood does not only apply to races but it is also our relationship to people," Mrs. Smith asserted. "God made us all brothers but how many of us are brothers to the people in our church, neighborhood and our community?"

"We can no longer ignore what goes on in other parts of our world. All of us have seen all too clearly that when there is a war in China or Korea, there are graves in the cemeteries of your town and mine.

"Although we feed the needy and put shoes on their feet, we cannot win them if we forget to care. When we begin to care, we will no longer have to embarrassingly admit that only, one out of three Methodist women belongs to the Woman's Society of Christian Service and that less than 60 per cent of the population of our so-called Christian nation has any church affiliation."

About 100 pastors were present

Omahan Jailed In Street Fight

OMAHA (AP) — Willis Allen Sackett, 20, Omaha, was sentenced Friday to a 60-day jail term in connection with a car-curbing street fight in which a 15-year-old boy was severely injured.

Central Criminal Court Judge James O'Brien labeled Sackett as leader of the gang, and overruled defense attempts to prove that Sackett took no actual part in the assault upon Tony Marino.

The judge blamed automobiles for Sackett's downfall, citing his long traffic record as "one of the worst I have seen." Sackett's license now has been suspended for the third time.

Sackett was released on a $300 appeal bond.

St. E. Grads Hear Of 'Gold Second Mile'

The "golden second mile" can be described as a pathway of duty, a pathway of unselfishness and a pathway of loftier purposes, Dr. S. T. Thierstein told the 23 graduates of St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing.

"The pathway of the second mile is not crowded," Dr. Thierstein, hospital staff member, said. "It is a place where everyone can go regardless of their ability if they are willing to do a little extra. It will pay off in dividends of happiness and inner peace."

Most Rev. Bishop Louis B. Kucera presented diplomas to the graduates at commencement exercises held at Everett Junior High School.

A reception for the graduates and their families followed at the School of Nursing home.

Hinky-Dinky Store Buys Parking Area

An approximate quarter of a block of land at the northeast corner of 25th and N has been purchased for a parking lot by the Hinky-Dinky Store at 2525 O.

The property was deeded to the American Community Stores Corp., which operates the Hinky-Dinky chain, by the First Trust Co. of Lincoln.

Work on the new parking lot is to start immediately. The transaction is reported to have involved more than $40,000.

Ike Fills His Creel With Platte Trout

PINE, Colo. (INS) — President Eisenhower filled his creel with trout in an icy mountain stream Friday and then donned a chef's apron and gave a fish fry for his fishing cronies.

He took the day off from work at the Summer White House to motor 50 miles southwest of Denver to Bal Swan Ranch, one of his favorite fishing haunts.

The north branch of the South Platte River, which flows through the ranch, had been stocked for the occasion with 750 trout in the 12-to-16-inch range, according to local residents.

There was no exact count on how many of the hatchery trout Mr. Eisenhower pulled out of the stream, because newsmen were shoofed off a road overlooking the river where they have watched the President fish in the past.

He caught at least several fish before lunch and then retired to a nearby clump of pines to take up his duties as chief camp cook.

Official Ousted

MINNEAPOLIS (INS) — The International Brotherhood of Teamsters kicked out a Minneapolis union official convicted of collecting money for a phony welfare fund. The official is Gerald P. Connelly. He pleaded guilty in Federal Court last month of accepting payoffs from employers for a fictitious health and welfare fund. He was fined $2,000.
